

Making Generalizations

A generalization is a statement about a group that is true for most of the group most of the time.